

SEO to GO

As a web designer, web host or server administrator, are you delivering the most complete package of services to your client without delivering SEO?

As a web designer, web host or server administrator, are you capturing the most business from a client without delivering SEO? As a web designer, web host or server administrator are you increasing your odds of keeping a customer when excluding SEO services?

The better IT firms understand, embrace and deliver a more comprehensive package of IT products to their clients. Your clients not only need more comprehensive IT packages that include Seo, the smart ones realize it is critical to business survival.

Put your clients best interests ahead of your own for a moment and then put yourself in their position. The better your client does, the better you do.

Great web design should complement an already great SEO. Great web hosting should compliment great SEO. Effective server administration should complement an already effective SEO.

Effective SEO equates to profitable business for your client. Sound SEO equates to favorable customer retention for your customer, thus yourself. So why not expand your IT service offerings to include effective and comprehensive SEO? You have the client relationship, the IT background and the desire for success already.

Your client probably knows little of SEO, but would surely welcome its benefits. So why not deliver financial reward to both your client and yourself by delivering SEO along with your existing services?

Please take what you have just read to heart. Understand the importance of comprehensive IT product offerings that include SEO and its importance to your client. I just happen to be that client. I am that client that does not know everything there is to know about SEO. I am that client that know my success hinges on SEO. I am that client that seeks out talented and complete vendors like that of my employees. When I get these types of comprehensive vendors I keep them, I do more business with them, I refer them and I never leave them.
