

The perfect invitation for couples shower theme or traditional

The couples shower is similar to the baby shower and the wedding showers except the guests are both males and females. The guests are the female friends of the bride in the traditional wedding shower. The maid of honor or the best friend of the bride is usually the one who gives out the party. The party is usually held at a designated place or at someones house. Of course there are also the theme bridal party or the more elaborate showers. The invitation then generally complement the party. The invitation is 60s designed or inspired if for instance the party is a 60s theme party.

Now the traditional bridal shower has evolved with the changing family structure and the evolving role of the men and women in the society. And so we now have the couples shower. Now the couples shower as part of the wedding event is becoming the norm. More couples are now having couples shower party instead even though we still see the traditional shower occasionally. Also, the responsibilities and the role in the family is now being shared by the couples. The usual gifts for the bridal shower are no longer really just for the women.

Now the themes are also different from the traditional bridal shower since the couples shower is for both the male and the female. For example, the lingerie theme bridal shower is now quite inappropriate. This would definitely make the male and the female guests feel quite uncomfortable. Thus it is quite important to choose the theme that would be applicable for both sexes. The host must also consider the games when choosing the theme. Also, the right place for the event must be taken into consideration if the party will be a night out in the town.

Of course the invitation should be applicable for both the female and the male also. Even though the male are invited they might feel out of place if the invitation is a traditional bridal shower invitation. Also, the host must make sure that the groom receives the same attention as the bride. As for the party, it should be interesting to the males and the groom as well. The first thing that can really make them interested with the party of course is the invitation. The right couples shower invitation for the couples should be the ones used by the host. The couples shower invitation should be interesting for the female as well as the males.
